TELEMEDICINE TODAY

Jack Karabees has spent the past 25 years successfully establishing and executing high-growth sales and marketing plans and funding for early-stage and mid-market healthcare technology and technology-enabled healthcare services companies.

Consult A Doctor is a leader in transforming healthcare access and delivery globally. The webinar will demonstrate the infinite ways that digital medicine combined with remote monitoring can add immense value across the healthcare ecosystem — including employer groups, hospitals, providers and other clinical users, payers and especially end-user consumers world-wide. Attendees will learn how Consult A Doctor can provide 24/7 consultation, disease management, chronic condition management and lab services across all 50 states and beyond.
